What you need to know about an Adult Support and Protection Case Conference

TAYSIDE POLICE

What is an Adult Support and Protection Case Conference?

An Adult Support and Protection Case Conference is a meeting we arrange if there are concerns that you are not safe or that someone is causing you harm.

Should I attend the Case Conference?

As this meeting is about you, it would be good if you can attend. You have the right to know what is being said. You will be able to contribute to the discussion and let us know your views and feelings.

What happens if I don't attend?

If you are unable to attend, the Social Worker will talk to you and represent your views.

You can also ask for an independent Advocate not employed by the Council or the NHS to help you give your views. They can also attend the Conference for you to make sure your views are heard.

You may wish to submit a written statement and the Chairperson will read this out at the Conference.

Why must there be a Case Conference?

A Case Conference is needed to:

- find out if you are at risk of harm;
- find out what the harm might be;
- agreed what needs to be done to protect you from harm.

What happens at a Case Conference?

Information about any risks to you is shared.

Your views and views of family and friends are considered.

A decision is made on whether something needs to be done to protect you.

Any plan that is needed to protect you is agreed.
