Getting into lots of trouble?

These things can happen to anybody. Sometimes they last for a day or two and go away. Sometimes they can go on and on.

Not getting on with friends?

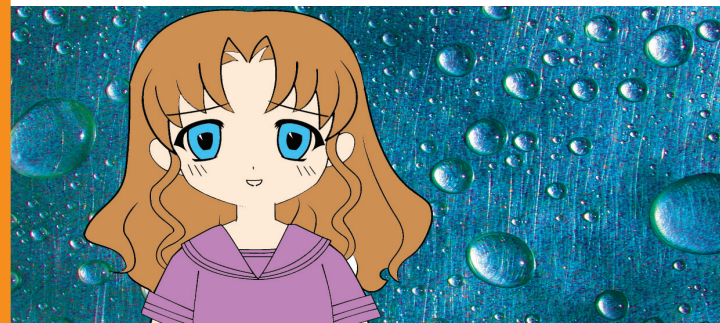

You can speak to us about anything. We won't tell anyone what you say unless:

- you say it's ok.
- It's something adults need to know to keep you safe or to keep other children safe.

Feeling unhappy because something upsetting has happened?

Parents and teachers can try to help sort things out. Educational Psychologists are often in school and sometimes parents and teachers will ask us to help out too.

You have the right to be asked how you feel about this.

Finding schoolwork hard?

We'll listen to you and talk to your parents and teachers to see how you're getting on. We may look at your work, see how you are getting on in class, or work with you.
