Can I have access to footage from an incident I was involved in or see footage you may have of me?

If a crime has occurred, it should be reported to the Police to investigate. They are able to access CCTV footage to assist with their enquiries.

Otherwise, you can make a Subject Access Request to see whether the council holds footage of you. This will be considered on a case by case basis and depends on the incident or type of footage held. You will need to provide sufficient information to enable the operators to identify you in any footage.

Where the request relates to an incident involving your vehicle, your insurance company should make the request and an administration fee will apply.

There is a camera near my property, can the people monitoring it see into my home?

No. Privacy screening technology is used to blur images where the cameras are near residential properties to prevent footage of the inside of people's homes from being captured or seen by monitoring staff.
